

Cooperation, Service to Society, and Internationalisation Statement

The College is committed to fostering institutional cooperation, contributing to societal wellbeing, and promoting international engagement, ensuring these priorities are embedded in its academic, professional, and community activities.

The College actively engages with external stakeholders through advisory boards, programme review, and research activities, including events such as the Research Café and Research Symposium, which facilitate ongoing dialogue and sector-relevant input into institutional planning and development. Structured engagement with industry and professional partners is supported through the Industry Roundtable Framework, ensuring that programme design, delivery, and review benefit from expert insight. These also serve, together with regular contributions in local public media and social media, to contribute to the initiation of national / sector think tanks / discussions where IDEA College is resulting to ab a valid driver.

In support of community and societal development, the College provides scholarships and humanitarian initiatives, engages with NGOs and foundations, offers flexible learning opportunities for non-traditional learners, and fosters lifelong learning through alumni engagement initiatives.

The College also encourages international visibility and collaboration, through participation in projects and signed by MoUs, supporting staff and student participation in conferences, seminars, workshops, mobility programmes, and professional training, and maintaining active communication with international partners through newsletters, media presence, and outreach activities. These efforts are reinforced by recognised frameworks for international collaboration, including the Erasmus+ Charter, and contribute to the development of collaborative arrangements with the wider international community.

Collectively, these activities and mechanisms reflect the College's strategic commitment to cooperation, service to society, and internationalisation, ensuring that institutional priorities are effectively integrated into practice and continue to evolve in alignment with the College's mission and objectives.
